The Navy's newest aircraft carrier, USS John C. Stennis, comes alongside the Navy's oldest Carrier, USS Independence, in the Arabian Gulf to jointly maintain UN-mandated sanctions against Iraq and enforce the "No-Fly Zone." It is symbolic of the gathering of the newest and oldest Center employees at Trenton's Last Roundup. Over the last 47 years, we worked together for the defense of our country, and our contributions were as significant as those of the military aboard the two ships. As NATTS/NAPTC/NAPC/NAWCAD-TRN approaches disestablishment, I would like to extend the following traditional Navy farewell to all,

May you always have fair winds and following seas.
